

Tim Walz commuted life sentence of teen charged with killing 11-year-old girl – who's been busted twice since then

August 19, 2024

Tampon Tim Walz, like all communist Democrats in the country prioritizes the life of killers over those who are actually victims.. Take for instance scumbag Walz commuting the life since of a dirtbag named Myron Burrell... He was given a life sentence for killing an 11 year old girl in 2002. Walz commuted his sentence and the dirtbag Burrell has been arrested twice since Walz let the killer walk.

As Minnesota Gov. Tim Walz celebrates on the first day of the Democratic National Convention on Monday, a man whose murder sentence he commuted will face trial for additional crimes he's accused of committing since the now-Democratic vice presidential nominee set him free early.

Myron Burrell was given a life murder sentence for the 2002 killing of 11-year-old Tyesha Edwards, who was struck by a stray bullet while doing homework, but Walz voted to commute Burrell's sentence when the governor was a member of the Minnesota Board of Pardons in 2020.

Burrell was 16 at the time of the shooting. Police said he shot Tyesha while attempting to hit a rival gang member.